SWEET MOSAIC

CHRISTIAN VENTURA got around the next moment to get the idea for his stainless steel mosaic tiles. "I was walking by the Adelphi Hotel in Melbourne. They've got large aluminum plates on the wall and it inspired me to think of stainless steel in another form - smaller sections on a large area." The tiles, which are fixed by dim, have a hard brushed finish and reflect the light according to whether the lighting goes up, down or left/right, resulting in a shimmering, constantly changing effect. The mosaic tiles, now available, has some great things for Venice's Park Hotel company. Any future installations include the glass, metal, marble, and woodwork. The tiles will be a feature of the bathroom in the new, five-story hotel in New York City. www.aly.com.au
