NO LONGER LIMITED TO KITCHENS, STAINLESS STEEL TAKES ON NEW FORMS IN ROOMS AROUND THE HOME

Take a shine to stainless steel in all shapes and places. CLOCKWISE FROM TOP LEFT: "Stainless Sparklers" by Japanese fabric company Nuno, from Arsitek, makes funky curtains and cushions (see page 60 for more about Nuno). Stainless steel is showing up ON THE TABLE in salt and pepper shakers, bowls, napkin rings and sleek, modern homewares such as this reversible candlestick vase from Aneset Homewares. Stainless-steel restaurant tables are also now appearing in the home dining room. FOR HIP LIVING ROOMS it makes a showing in cabinets and shelving. Pictured is a handmade hi-fi trolley by David Salkin, of COT Concepts. A hot tip from Spiller: rub stainless steel with WD40 and a clean cloth to give it a protective coating and a good sheen. FOR THE BATHROOM shiny tiles by Alloy (another leader in stainless-steel products) are available in a brushed or mirror finish. Details, next pages.
